Legislative Session In Full Swing

TAAD Update Scheduled

From January 8 through May 27, 2013, the Texas Legislature meets for a constitutionally-mandated 140 days. Staying informed about legislative activities is important!

TAAD is following nearly 300 bills, covering a wide range of topics: exemptions, CAD administrative changes, elected BODs, TNT, training as well as qualifications for chief appraisers, appraisal caps, public information changes, TDLR administration changes regarding property tax professionals, special appraisal bills, ARB changes, and more!

This seminar will bring TAAD members up to date with the bills that are working their way through the House and Senate, the amendments that have changed bills on our watch list, and the input that has been shared by members and allied organizations.

» See page 17 for a registration form; the agenda won’t be formalized until nearer to the seminar. Four CEs will be granted for the session.

» NOTE: This will not qualify for the mandatory “New Laws/Rules” required by TDLR.

» Room reservations at the Round Rock Marriott must be made no later than April 13.

Hello From TAAD’s 2013 President

Jeff Law » For the past several years many talented men and women have served as TAAD’s president and I am honored to be among them. I look forward to the days ahead and want to meet as many of you as I can. My hope is together we can continue making TAAD a great organization that serves us and future appraisal district employees well.

I really appreciate all of you that have agreed to serve on our committees. I have come to understand that committees are the life’s blood of the TAAD organization. If it wasn’t for the dedicated people on these groups sharing their ideas, dreams and goals, the achievements TAAD enjoys today may not have become reality. If you are looking for a way to get involved and help TAAD, committees are the place to begin looking.

As we complete the first quarter of 2013, I am excited about the opportunities that lie before us. However, recognizing opportunity can be the greatest challenge we face in life. Rita Coolidge may have said it best, “Too often, the opportunity knocks, but by the time you push back the chain, push back the bolt, unhook the two locks and shut off the burglar alarm, it’s too late.” Recognition of opportunities is a talent that sets certain people apart from others. If you aren’t looking for opportunity you likely will never see it coming or when it leaves because opportunity doesn’t knock very loudly.

My hope for TAAD is that we not only recognize those opportunities that present themselves, but we also take the correct action to benefit from those opportunities to make this organization better for our staff members, the entities we serve and the taxpayers that benefit from the services we provide.

As we move forward into 2013 and 2014 let’s purposefully look for opportunities to not only make TAAD a better organization but to also improve our offices, districts and lives. I look forward to this upcoming year as President and I am willing to accept the challenges it presents. Together, we can continue making TAAD an organization to be proud of.

Farewell From 2012’s President

Rick Kuehler » It has been an honor and privilege to serve as president of TAAD for 2012. It has been a remarkable year as I was able to travel across Texas and visit many of the TAAD Chapters. I traveled Texas from tip to tip and side to side, and it was a most rewarding experience for me. I visited areas I had never seen in Texas and met many wonderful people. Texas appraisal districts, large and small, do such a great job throughout Texas. I shall treasure the many encounters that I had with each of you, and I thank you for your hospitality you showed me. My professional life has truly been enriched from the people and experiences I have been blessed to be a part of while serving TAAD.

As I complete my presidency, I am proud to report TAAD is in great financial shape and we have many great volunteers devoting their time serving on committees. I would like to thank the TAAD Committees for their hard work in making TAAD what it has become and what it will continue to be in the future. I must also thank Doris, Kelly, and Marianne, cornerstones of the TAAD organization. TAAD is so fortunate to have such talented and dedicated people working for us.

Lastly, many thanks to the Dallas Central Appraisal District management and staff for allowing me the time to carry out this endeavor.

I thank you for the opportunity to have served TAAD as your President, and I thank each of you for your membership in, and support of, TAAD.
Congratulations To The TAAD Chief Appraiser Institute

These individuals have completed a series of intensive studies as a part of the requirements of the course.

This year’s Earl Luna Award winner, Ed Trigg, is a name recognized by practically everyone in the ad valorem tax industry – not a surprise for someone who’s been in the field more than 30 years.

He was born and raised in Archer City, and spent his early years working for his family’s abstract and title business; maybe it’s no wonder he’s served as the chief appraiser of two appraisal districts so far.

He’s served TAAD in many ways, and has worked his way through the officer track. And, he’s probably the only Earl Luna Award winner who’s appeared in a movie – the cast of “Last Picture Show.” You might know him for his role as “Melvin” in the Barber Shop series about life in Archer City, Texas.

He holds a Bachelor’s degree from Texas Tech University. Ask anyone and they’ll tell you his favorite pastime is golf, golf, and then some more golf.

He’s married to Julie, the father of three, and proud grandfather of four.

This year, we honor Rick Kuehler who has been an active part of TAAD’s education program for several years and has become an important person in the education of many Texas property tax professionals.

There’s LOTS of stuff most people already know about him … like he’s worked for the same appraisal district for more than 30 years … and he’s been the backbone of TAAD’s annual conferences for almost that long … and he’s been a frequent speaker on topics like open government, public information and everything you never knew about ARBs … and he’s travelled to nearly every continent on earth.

He hails from Munday in West Texas, and proudly proclaims himself a Munday Mogul. He holds a Bachelor’s degree from the University of North Texas as well as a graduate degree from its school of Public Administration. After serving as Gladewater City Manager, he’s been with the Dallas Central Appraisal District since March 1981.

This award is annually presented to the outstanding appraisal district director. This is a tough choice because in TAAD we have many board members, and all contribute in their own way. The latest winner is Frank Monk, member of the Austin County Appraisal District Board of Directors.

He received his B.B.A in Marketing from the University of Houston and has been a licensed real estate agent since 1972 and a broker since 1975. Specializing in farm and ranch property, his company has been recognized as one of the top 100 producers by the Houston Association of Realtors. He’s been honored with awards from the Realtors Land Institute for “Land Transaction of The Year,” for both Texas and the U.S. Frank is active in the local, state, and national levels of various Realtor organizations.

Community involvement plays a big part in Monk’s life and includes being an active member of the American Quarter Horse Association; Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo; Director, Austin County Fair; Texas & Southwestern Cattleman’s Association: Director and past President of Bellville’s Industrial Foundation; and Austin County Commissioner. He has spent much of the past two decades serving on either the ARB or the board of directors of Austin CAD.

He has been married for 28 years, with one daughter; and the family is active in the Bellville area where they live.
Executive Director’s Report for 2012
Delegate Assembly & Business Meeting, February 25, 2013

Highlights of 2012, a busy year for the Texas Association of Appraisal Districts, include:

» TAAD enjoyed the participation of 245 appraisal districts, including five new ones (Blanco, Collingsworth, Jeff Davis, Hutchinson, and Moore)!

» TAAD’s education program continued to develop and expand in 2012. We served 892 students in 33 state certification classes in Austin, an increase of 5.3 percent over 2011. Although TDLR abolished “secondary sponsors” TAAD continues to assist its members in setting up education courses across the state to reach many more students, maintaining our commitment to help appraisal districts bring reasonably-priced education to their local area.

The TAAD Education Committee planned 33 programs to reach all segments of the appraisal district population. Topics covered included Open Government, Developing Your CAD’s PR Plan, Public Funds Investment Act training, TDLR-mandated laws and rules updates and ethics training, as well as numerous specialized appraisal seminars. In addition, TAAD renewed a commitment to professional development of its members by assisting IAAO with their Instructor Relations Committee and by offering 11 courses and workshops.

We continued to offer RPA review courses for registrants taking their licensing exams. For 2012, we served a total of 2,464 students through TAAD’s education program.

» We continued our Chief Appraiser Institute, designed to provide in-depth training to new and prospective chief appraisers. There were 43 individuals in the Class of 2012, and 42 completed the rigorous one-year training program.

» Approximately 630 individuals and more than 125 vendors attended TAAD’s Thirty-first Annual Conference in Houston last February. The Conference Committee continues to work on providing the best program, speakers and facilities possible for a reasonable price.

» During the 2012 legislative interim TAAD’s Legislative Committee developed its list of legislative priorities, followed House and Senate committees and met to work with other organizations and individuals who share similar legislative concerns.

» TAAD’s executive board has worked to meet its strategic plan, calling for developing and maintaining a sound education program for tax professionals; developing educational opportunities for member district support staff; evaluating and improving the program of the annual conference; increasing membership and member services, and working with legislators, related organizations and state leaders to maintain a legislative presence.

» THE APPRISER, the association’s newsletter is now provided to members by way of email, saving TAAD money and getting information to members faster.

For 2013, the TAAD staff and I aim to do our best to continue to meet the needs of our membership. We will remember that each of you members, whether from a member district, or an associate, affiliate or retired member, is the most important reason for our being at TAAD. Please feel free to contact us at any time to share your concerns, questions and comments. At all times we will remember that TAAD exists to be of service to its members; please let me know how the staff and I can assist you and your appraisal district.

- Date: October 7-11, 2013
- Site: Travis CAD, 8314 Cross Park Drive, Austin
- Instructor: Rick Stuart, CAE
- Fees:
  - TAAD member districts: $385
  - TAAD associate/affiliate members: $425
  - Nonmembers: $490
- TDLR credit: 30 hours

Course 101 is designed to provide the students with an understanding and working knowledge of the procedures and techniques required to estimate the market value of vacant and improved properties. This course concentrates on the skills necessary for estimating the market value of properties using two approaches to value: the cost approach and the sales comparison approach. The Fundamentals of Real Property Appraisal utilizes lectures, classroom discussion, and homework problems to emphasize the main concepts and procedures taught in the course.

Recommended text: Property Assessment Valuation (obtain from IAAO)

Course 402: Property Tax Policy

- Date: November 11-15, 2013
- Site: Harris CAD, 13013 Northwest Freeway, Houston
- Instructor: Rick Stuart, CAE
- Fees:
  - TAAD member districts: $385
  - TAAD associate/affiliate members: $425
  - Nonmembers: $490
- TDLR credit: 30 hours

Course 402 offers students strategies for assisting in the effective formulation and implementation of tax policies and presents background enabling students to understand the context under which property tax policy is established. Students will be given analytical tools with which they can explain the effects of proposed property tax changes. They will be provided with a sound theoretical basis to guide decision-making and to assist in creating workable solutions for their jurisdictions. The course is designed for assessment administrators and students of taxation, as well as professional policy advisors who guide and make decision in the area of tax policy on a regular basis.

Course 102: Income Approach to Valuation

- Date: November 18-22, 2013
- Site: Travis CAD, 8314 Cross Park Drive, Austin

Real Estate Notes of Interest

Rick Stuart, CAE
Rick is a Senior Consultant with TEAM Consulting and lives in Topeka, Kansas.

"While overall leasing volume appeared to be somewhat lower in 2012 from the previous year, strong absorption and very limited new construction — combined with a significant number of demolitions/removals of antiquated buildings — helped to push the U.S. office vacancy rate down 50 basis points over the past year to 12.3 percent at the end of fourth-quarter 2012, according to CoStar analysts.”
www.costar.com/News/Article/Recovering-Office-Demand-Sets-Stage-For-Rent-Growth-Across-The-US/145245?ref=100&iid=320&cid=7918A3A58F4CCADAD83D2484AB7C5D22

Editor’s Note: The Lightstone Group was a much-discussed group in the hotel industry with their very large purchase into an industry with which they had no history. They soon lost the property and as you can see below, Blackstone did well on the sell and then the buyback application.

"The extended-stay hotel market has morphed a great deal since Blackstone sold the largest chain of such hotels (680 of them) to the Lightstone Group at the peak of the market back in June 2007 for $8 billion and then regained control of the chain two years later after the recession forced Lightstone to put the chain into Chapter 11 bankruptcy. Blackstone and two other institutional funds ended up controlling the portfolio again, buying it out of bankruptcy for $3.9 billion, less than half the former sales price.”
www.costar.com/News/Article/Blackstone-Does-It-Again-Extended-Stay-Hotels-Regain-Luster-After-Surprise-Twist/145213?ref=100&iid=320&cid=7918A3A58F4CCADAD83D2484AB7C5D22

"Freddie Mac originated a whopping $28.8 billion of multifamily loans last year, topping by an astounding 42 percent the $20.3 billion of originations in 2011. Last year’s volume was driven by $10 billion of originations in the fourth quarter alone. The year easily topped the previous record of $24 billion, which it recorded in 2008. A total of 54 percent of its activity last year was for refinancing, while 40 percent funded acquisitions. The remainder was for other purposes. The financing it provided, some through bond credit enhancements, funded more than 1,600 properties with 435,000 units.”

AnnaMaria Andriotis, www.marketwatch.com, February 1, 2013
Editor’s Note: When teaching a class around the end of 2012, a student asked what I felt the housing loan market was going to do. When I stated I feared we are headed down the same track that got people and lending institutions in trouble before, there was some adamant disagreement. I sincerely hope I am wrong. See where you think this article fits in that conversation.

"It’s 100 percent financing— the same strategy that pushed many homeowners into foreclosure during the housing bust. Banks say these loans are safer: They’re almost exclusively being offered to clients with sizable assets, and they often require two forms of collateral—the house and a portion of the client’s investment portfolio in lieu of a traditional cash down payment.”
www.marketwatch.com/story/no-money-down-home-loans-are-back-2013-02-01

"A plunge in U.S. home listings to a 12-year low is driving up prices and preventing transactions from returning to historically normal levels. Many potential sellers are holding off until values rise more, while investors are snatching up distressed properties before they reach the market. U.S. home prices rose 5.5 percent in November from a year earlier, the biggest annual gain since August 2006, the S&P/Case-Shiller index of values in 20 cities showed last week.”

www.htrends.com, February 6, 2013
"The Cornell index of hotel industry real estate transactions has identified a slowing of price increases for large hotel properties in the fourth quarter of 2012, while prices for small hotels were still rising at the end of last year. Moreover, as a result of the moderating price growth for high-end hotels, construction costs for new five-star hotels are now equal to the price of existing high-end hotels. Additionally, as income growth begins to decline, the price growth of both large and small hotels will continue to slow. These are the key points of an analysis found in the latest edition of the Cornell Real Estate Market Indices, which is available at no charge from the Cornell Center for Real Estate and Finance.” www.htrends.com/researcharticle69181.html

www.htrends.com, February 1, 2013

“LE (Lodging Econometrics) expects 500 projects/55,080 rooms to open in 2013 for a 1.1 percent increase in the nation’s hotel supply. In 2014, new openings are forecasted to be 591 projects/66,102 rooms, a 1.3 percent supply increase. The development pipeline is expected to leap forward as lodging profitability continues to rise exceeding pre-recessionary levels, and because mortgage lending is in a near nirvana state, which should further accelerate the flow of new project announcements into the pipeline.” www.htrends.com/researcharticle69119.html

According to the latest survey, more than three-fourths of builders expect building materials prices to be one of their significant problems expected in 2013. Second is cost/availability of labor, a significant problem 51 percent of builders expect to face in 2013, and nearly half of the builders expect cost/availability of developed lots to be a significant problem. This is also up from 24 percent who said they faced the problem in 2012 and 21 percent who faced it in 2011.

This only makes sense. As the amount of new construction and remodeling increases, so do the sales of products such as power tools, air conditioners, carpet, furniture and cement mixers.

“Several Idaho companies have become the subject of audits since a recent decision by the Idaho State Tax Commission that made subscription software delivered online subject to state sales tax. The ruling was a surprise because Idaho doesn’t tax services.” Otherwise stated, they are taxing “the cloud.”

Spanish tax authorities are now visiting businesses to ferret out tax evaders and delinquents and often confiscate and remove property to help pay for the taxes. In a recent visit to a restaurant, the authorities carried away contents from part of a wine cellar, a cigar humidor, tables and part of the cash from the day’s earning.

“Texas is riding at the head of the wave of U.S. housing recovery. In 2012, Texas for the second year in a row topped the country in single-family homebuilding, according to a new report by John Burns Real Estate Consulting. Houston was by far the national leader with permits for 28,567 houses. The Dallas-area was second with 12,623 single-family home building permits.” Austin ranked sixth with almost 8,000 new houses permitted last year. Fort Worth was 17th and San Antonio was 18th.

bizbeatblog.dallasnews.com/2013/02/texas-cities-top-u-s-homebuilding-surge.html/

“Despite the difficult economy and market challenges during the past four years, self-storage as an asset class has continued to provide solid performance and stable returns for investors. Once dominated by mom and pops, or small, independent owner/operators, the self-storage industry has evolved into a top-performing asset class during the past decade.” This is a good article and can be read at www.ccim.com/cire-magazine/articles/268193/2013/01/self-storage-steps.
