Welcome 2014 President Brent South

What an honor it is for me to serve as your 2014 TAAD President. I have been fortunate to have served on the executive board under such great leadership and to observe and learn from them. This is a position that I take very seriously, and I plan on working extremely hard this year to ensure that TAAD remains on top as an example for all other associations to follow.

TAAD provides so many wonderful services to our members, thanks to a dedicated staff and hardworking volunteer committees. Our education program is outstanding, providing all the educational needs for TDLR registrants, including the mandatory requirements for chief appraisers through the Chief Appraiser Institute. We have so many excellent instructors and are always looking for more. If you have a passion for teaching, I encourage you to become a TAAD instructor.

Although 2014 is not a legislative year, now is a critical time during the legislative process. Our Legislative Committee and other members of TAAD are already hard at work behind the scenes communicating with legislators and other local government associations to promote our legislative agenda for the upcoming session.

I want to ensure you that TAAD recognizes the needs of all appraisal districts big and small, and we will work to represent all of you equally. Please realize that TAAD cannot do this alone. That is why I encourage you to get out and visit with your local representatives and establish a relationship with them. Help educate the public on the services our profession provides, and keep your taxing entities informed of any potential issues down the road.

I look forward to traveling the state and visiting with each of you at your local chapter meetings over the next year. Our members are the number one thing that makes us such a great association.

Thank you again for this wonderful opportunity, and let’s have a great 2014!
Farewell 2013 President Jeff Law

It has truly been an honor and privilege serving as president of TAAD this past year.

And I truly mean serving. This wasn’t my organization, it is your organization. TAAD can only be as good as its membership, and we have a great group of people associated with this organization.

My most rewarding experiences were not the meetings but meeting many of the great people working within this industry. We work with some of the most honest and upstanding people I have ever been around. Individuals that are underpaid, work thankless jobs, but have a heart of gold and whose primary focus is to just do the right thing. Texans should be proud of the public servants working in appraisal districts throughout this State.

I am excited about the future of TAAD. As Brent South takes over as president, I am confident he will continue moving TAAD in a direction that will be the most beneficial for all of us. As an organization, TAAD is in great shape both financially and professionally. Our committees are the backbone of this organization and they will continue to address the pressing issues we face in these challenging times.

I want to thank all of you that personally spoke words of encouragement to me and for those that supported me in the shadows and background. Your feedback and input were invaluable to me. I also want to say thanks to Doris, Kelly and Marianne for their help and advice during my time as president. There were many questions on my part, but they always had an answer and guided me to a sensible resolution.

Finally, I would like to say a big thank you to my staff at the Tarrant Appraisal District. While I was out of the office on official TAAD business, they were home minding the shop, and they did an outstanding job.

Lastly I want to thank the TAAD executive board and trustees for their patience and support during all of those meetings and for trusting me with the responsibility of leading such a great organization.
Congratulations To The TAAD Chief Appraiser Institute

This year’s Earl Luna Award winner, Dave Kimbrough, is a name recognized by practically everyone in the ad valorem tax industry – not a surprise for someone who’s been in the field for 40-plus years.

He’s a Northeast Texas native, growing up in Grayson County. Early in his career he worked first for the Grayson County Tax Office and then for the Grayson County Appraisal District, before moving west in 1982 to take a chief appraiser job in Lubbock. This must have been to his liking because he has remained there ever since. At the end of February he retired from LCAD.

He’s been involved since 1981 with IAAO, serving as TAAD’s state representative for Texas since 1991 and as a member of the Membership Services Committee. He’s served TAAD in many ways, serving as a trustee and on numerous committees. If you need help with something, just ask him — I’ve never heard him say “no” to someone who wants his help. A quote from one of his colleagues: “Dave is a consummate professional. He is thorough and thoughtful in everything he does. On a personal level, you could not find a better friend.”

He holds a B.B.A from East Texas State University with a real estate emphasis. Ask anyone and they’ll tell you his favorite pastime is anything involving his family, especially his year-old grandson, JD.

This year, we honor Rick Stuart who has been an active part of TAAD’s education program for several years and has become an important person in the education of many Texas property tax professionals.

He received a B.S. degree in Business Administration with a major in accounting at Northwest Missouri State University. Rick’s assessment career began in 1981 and ran through 2005 when he joined TEAM Consulting.

Stuart is a Senior IAAO instructor and continues to teach several IAAO courses, workshops and one-day forums. As an independent consultant to assessment jurisdictions with TEAM Consulting, he develops and teaches workshops and one-day forums. He holds IAAO’s highest professional designation of CAE (Certified Assessment Evaluator) and has been the recipient of several IAAO awards.

He has served as past president of the Kansas County Appraisers and Kansas City Chapter of IAAO, and has served on the IAAO Executive Board and several IAAO committees.

Rick Stuart, 2013 James Goodwin Excellence in Education Award winner, with Brent South and 2012 winner Rick Kuehler.

This award is annually presented to the outstanding appraisal district director. This is a tough choice because in TAAD we have many board members, and all contribute in their own way. The latest winner is Glenn Peters, of the Harris County Appraisal District Board of Directors.

Glenn Peters of Harris CAD BOD, 2013 Board Member of the Year Award winner

He has been a director of the Horsepen Bayou MUD since 1994, and was elected to the appraisal district board in 1999. He represents MUDs on the HCAD board.

Peters received his B.S in Civil Engineering from Texas A&M University and has 43 years’ experience in construction and construction management experience, encompassing civil, industrial and environmental projects.

For fun, our winner likes to go to Africa and hunt/harvest wild game. His bucket list includes going to Kodiak, Alaska to hunt for a grizzly bear. He has been married 38 years to wife, Sandra, and has a son, Aaron. He is a veteran of the U.S. Army, 27th Engineer Battalion.

Executive Director’s Report for 2013
Delegate Assembly & Business Meeting, February 9, 2014

Highlights of 2013, a busy year for the Texas Association of Appraisal Districts, include:

» TAAD enjoyed the participation of 245 appraisal districts, a tie for all-time high, including three new ones (McMullen, Rains, Ward)!

» TAAD’s education program continued to develop and expand in 2013. We served 863 students in 32 state certification classes in Austin, a slight decrease over 2012. Although TDLR abolished “secondary sponsors” TAAD continues to assist its members in setting up education courses across the state to reach many more students, maintaining our commitment to help appraisal districts bring reasonably-priced education to their local area.

The TAAD Education Committee planned 43 programs to reach all segments of the appraisal district population. Topics covered included Open Government, personal property issues, exemptions, Public Funds Investment Act training, TDLR-mandated laws and rules updates and ethics training, as well as numerous specialized appraisal seminars. In addition, TAAD renewed a commitment to professional development of its members by assisting IAAO with their Instructor Relations Committee and by offering 10 courses and workshops.

We continued to offer RPA review courses for registrants taking their licensing exams. For 2013, we served a total of 2,741 students through TAAD’s education program, an overall increase of 11.2 percent.

» We continued our Chief Appraiser Institute, designed to provide in-depth training to new and prospective chief appraisers. There were 31 individuals in the Class of 2013, and 29, plus two members from the class of 2012, completed the rigorous one-year training program, plus two members from the Class of 2012.

» Approximately 650 individuals and more than 137 vendors attended TAAD’s Thirty-second Annual Conference in Dallas last February. The Conference Committee continues to work on providing the best programs, speakers and facilities possible for a reasonable price.

» For the 2013 legislative session and the three special sessions, TAAD’s Legislative Committee developed its list of legislative priorities, followed House and Senate committees and worked with other organizations and individuals who share similar legislative concerns.

» TAAD’s executive board has worked to meet its strategic plan, calling for developing and maintaining a sound education program for tax professionals; developing educational opportunities for member district support staff; evaluating and improving the program of the annual conference; increasing membership and member services, and working with legislators, related organizations and state leaders to maintain a legislative presence.

» THE APPRAISER, the association’s newsletter is now provided to members by way of email, saving TAAD money and getting information to members faster.

For 2014, the TAAD staff and I aim to do our best to continue to meet the needs of our membership. We will remember that each of you members, whether from a member district, or an associate, affiliate or retired member, are the most important reason for our being at TAAD. Please feel free to contact us at any time to share your concerns, questions and comments. At all times we will remember that TAAD exists to be of service to its members; please let us know how the staff and I can assist you and your appraisal district.

Attorney General Requests for Opinions

GA-1047 (March 24, 2014) RE: Whether Education Code section 11.301 authorizes the citizens of Harris County to use repealed chapter 18 of the Education Code to increase the county equalization tax. (RQ-1152-GA)

Summary: A court would likely conclude that section 11.301 and former chapter 18 of the Education Code do not authorize a countywide school district to hold a petition-initiated election to increase the county equalization tax.

GA-1040 (January 31, 2014) RE: The authority of a county appraisal district to place excess funds in a capital improvement fund or to spend excess funds on a one-time, lump-sum payment to its employees. (RQ-1143-GA)

Summary: An expenditure an appraisal district has committed during the fiscal year to meet or secure an obligation is an expenditure that is obligated to be spent under subsection 6.06G) of the Tax Code. Only "payments made or due to be made by the taxing units" should be included in the excess-funds calculation and returned or credited back to the taxing units as required by subsection 6.06(j).

Excess funds must be returned or credited to the participating taxing units as required by subsection 6.06(j). The fact that a particular line item is not ‘prepared in the proposed budget’ by the June 15 deadline is not by itself fatal to the expenditure. The budget process in section 6.06 does not prevent amendments to the proposed budget after the public hearing process and before the budget is finally approved.

A proposed salary increase is likely not unconstitutional under Texas Constitution article III, section 53 if it operates prospectively from the time of its proper authorization.

An appraisal district’s participating taxing units may utilize section 6.10 of the Tax Code to disapprove the amendment of a budget by an appraisal district board.

Request No. 1183-GA RE: Whether a municipality may require voter approval to impose an ad valorem or sales tax. Opinion requested by Ann Marie Lee, Henderson County Auditor

Request No. 1182-GA RE: Whether a taxing unit may reserve mineral interests on property that is acquired through tax foreclosure and then resold pursuant to section 34.05 of the Tax Code. Opinion requested by Honorable Herb Hancock, Karnes County Attorney

Unusual (And Delicious) Capitals Of Texas

There’s more than one capital in Texas. Take a look at some of the Lone Star State’s more unusual claims to fame.

» Weslaco was recognized as the Citrus Capital of Texas by the 75th Texas Legislature in 1997.

» Corsicana is said to be the Fruit Cake Capital of the World with the Collin Street Bakery at its center. The fruit cake tradition goes back to the 15th century and is so ubiquitous, there are many songs featuring fruit cakes, including one by Jimmy Buffett.

» Athens, the Black-eyed Pea Capital of the World, was the world’s top producer of the legume between the 1930s and 1970s.

» Terlingua was named the Chili Capital of the World by the Chili Appreciation Society in 1967.

Course 101: Fundamentals of Real Property Appraisal
April 21-25, 2014
Site: Harris CAD, 13013 Northwest Freeway, Houston
Instructor: Marion Johnson, CAE
Fees: TAAD member districts $425, TAAD associate/affiliate members $475, Nonmembers: $550
TDLR credit: 30 hours
Course 101 is designed to provide the students with an understanding and working knowledge of the procedures and techniques required to estimate the market value of vacant and improved properties. This course concentrates on the skills necessary for estimating the market value of properties using two approaches to value: the cost approach and the sales comparison approach. The Fundamentals of Real Property Appraisal utilizes lectures, classroom discussion, and homework problems to emphasize the main concepts and procedures taught in the course.
Recommended text: Property Assessment Valuation, 3rd edition (obtain from IAAO)

Course 102: Income Approach to Valuation
September 8-12, 2014
Site: Harris CAD, 13013 Northwest Freeway, Houston
Instructor: Marion Johnson, CAE
Fees: TAAD member districts $425, TAAD associate/affiliate members $475, Nonmembers: $550
TDLR credit: 30 hours
Covers the theory and techniques of estimating value by the income, or capitalized earnings, approach. The material includes selection of capitalization rates, analysis of income and expenses to estimate operating income, and capitalization methods and techniques. This course also covers rental units of comparison, as well as real estate finance and investment.
Recommended: Course 101
Recommended text: Property Assessment Valuation, 3rd edition (obtain from IAAO)

Course 400: Assessment Administration
October 6-10, 2014
Site: Travis CAD, 8314 Cross Park Drive, Austin
Instructor: Rick Stuart, CAE
Fees: TAAD member districts $425, TAAD associate/affiliate members $475, Nonmembers: $550
TDLR credit: 30 hours
Course 400 provides fundamental management concepts for management and supervisory personnel in the assessor’s office. The course begins by emphasizing the need for management, and the various roles placed on the assessor and all supervisory personnel. The course then introduces the four major management functions (planning, organizing, directing, and controlling). Although the four functions are interrelated, a separate chapter is devoted to each one. This provides for a greater understanding of the major functions.
Recommended: Course 101, and The Appraisal Foundation’s Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice (USPAP)

Instructor: Lath Harris, CAE
Fees: TAAD member districts $165, TAAD associate/affiliate members $225, Nonmembers: $300
TDLR credit: 7 hours
This workshop is the National 7-hour USPAP Update offered for continuing education for licensure and certification through The Appraisal Foundation. The workshop provides a general overview of USPAP guidelines, advisory opinions, statements, and other appraisal practices. The course is updated yearly to address changes to USPAP and common misunderstandings.
IAAO recertification credit: 7 hours-1 day

Course 300: Fundamentals of Mass Appraisal
November 3-7, 2014
Site: Travis CAD, 8314 Cross Park Drive, Austin
Instructor: Rick Stuart, CAE
Fees: TAAD member districts $425, TAAD associate/affiliate members $475, Nonmembers: $550
TDLR credit: 30 hours
This course provides an introduction to mass appraisal and is a prerequisite for the 300 series of courses offered by the IAAO. Topics covered include single-property appraisal versus mass appraisal, components of a mass appraisal system, data requirements and analysis, introduction to statistics, use of assessment ratio studies in mass appraisal, modeling of the three approaches to value, and selection of a mass appraisal system.
Recommended: Course 101, 102
Recommended text: Mass Appraisal of Real Property textbook (MARP) (obtain from IAAO)

Course 331: Mass Appraisal Practices & Procedures

Instructor: Marion Johnson, CAE
Fees: TAAD member districts $425, TAAD associate/affiliate members $475, Nonmembers: $550
TDLR credit: 30 hours
This course is designed to build on the subject matter covered in Course 300—Fundamentals of Mass Appraisal and prepare the student to take the more advanced mass appraisal courses. It teaches the student how to use Excel and SPSS to analyze data and apply it. Much of the emphasis will be on data accumulation and analysis primarily directed toward the cost approach. Along the way the student will learn how to use the graphing and analysis tools within Excel for ratio studies in addition to supporting existing cost schedules or building new ones.
Recommended: Course 300

Recommended text: Fundamentals of Mass Appraisal textbook (FMA) (obtain from IAAO)

Course 102: Income Approach to Valuation
December 8-12, 2014

TDLR credit: 30 hours
IAAO Course 112 is a comprehensive, interactive program intended for mid-level, commercial-industrial appraisers. The material will cover the income approach to value in depth, and reflect contemporary appraisal theory. The course will be broad based, while covering many topics that will focus on a case study problem that utilizes methodology learned in the course and will allow the audience to work through the case study to its conclusion. Depending on the size of the class, students will be grouped, based on the instructor’s summation of the student’s class participation. The groups will generally consist of 2-4 students. Each group will be expected to present their results to the remainder of the class. The instructor will be available to assist each group.
Recommended: Course 101, Course 102
AQB Approved: 33.50 QE, 33.50 CE with exam / 30 CE no exam

www.htrends.com, January 16, 2014

“The total active U.S. hotel development pipeline comprises 2,877 projects totaling 349,317 rooms according to the December 2013 STR Pipeline Report. This represents a 14.9 percent increase in the number of rooms in the total active pipeline, compared with December 2012 and a 34.5 percent increase in rooms under construction.”

http://bit.ly/1eMj4ay

www.remodeling.hw.net, January 20, 2014

“For the second consecutive year, Cost vs. Value data show that the value of remodeling is up for all 35 projects included in the survey. This trend signals an end to the long slide in the cost-value ratio, which began to fall in 2006 and didn’t begin to rebound until last year (see, "Cost vs. Value 11-Year Trend"). For 2014, the cost-value ratio stands at 66.1 percent, a jump of 5.5 points over last year and the largest increase since 2005, when the ratio jumped 6.1 points to reach its high of 86.7 percent.”

“A new federal rule could give millions of home buyers insights they’ve never had before about a crucial element of their mortgage application: the appraisal, including the electronic cross-checks and reviews now used by lenders to determine the amount of the loan they’ll approve.”

http://lat.ms/1ih5XUe

Editor’s Note: If you appraise hotels, this is an interesting article.

“Even with great availability of low cost senior debt today, we still see a lot of projects suffering from a gap in their capital stack. Most of these deals are new construction projects, but there are plenty of acquisitions that have the same issue. Many of the owners are seeking some type of ‘passive’ equity to get their projects off the ground.”

http://bit.ly/imnX3Sh

“According to CoStar’s analysis, net absorption in the U.S. office market rose a solid 22 percent in 2013 over the previous year to 59 million square feet, with the increased demand helping push the vacancy rate down 50 basis points from 12.4 percent to 11.9 percent. The growing demand for office space, combined with an extended period which has seen little to no new office construction, resulted in the average U.S. office rent to grow 3.1 percent last year - the first time rents have cracked the three percent annual growth mark since 2007, the peak of the market cycle.”

www.realtor.com, January 30, 2014

“The Pending Home Sales Index, a forward-looking indicator based on contract signings, fell 8.7 percent to 92.4 in December from a downwardly revised 101.2 in November, and is 8.8 percent below December 2012 when it was 101.3. The data reflect contracts but not closings, and are at the lowest level since October 2011, when the index was 92.2.”

www.builderonline.com, January 31, 2014

“”When Redfin measures the speed of the housing market, the focus is on two numbers: median days on market, and the percentage of homes going under contract in two weeks or less.” Austin is listed as number nine.

Jones Lang LaSalle, January 27, 2014

“Investors and lenders in the hotel industry have begun the New Year with a healthy dose of confidence following a 35 percent increase in U.S. deal volumes in 2013, and strong forward momentum globally and domestically. Jones Lang LaSalle’s latest Hotel Investment Outlook projects that global hotel transaction volumes will raise by five to ten percent to roughly $50 billion in 2014. The Americas should drive the increase with a 15 percent rise in 2014 with volumes totaling $28 billion, which would mark the third-largest volume on record.”

"The mortgage delinquency rate hit the lowest level in five years and dropped below four percent for the first time since 2008. According to TransUnion’s latest mortgage delinquency report, the rate of borrowers 60 days of more delinquent on their mortgages ended the fourth quarter of 2013 at 3.85 percent.” http://bit.ly/ig7JIoC

"The caption on the internet said it all: ‘Déjà vu? A return to subprime’ Wells Fargo & Co, the largest U.S. mortgage lender, is tiptoeing back into subprime home loans again. The bank is looking for opportunities to stem its revenue decline as overall mortgage lending volume plunges. It believes it has worked through enough of its crisis-era mortgage problems, particularly with U.S. home loan agencies, to be comfortable extending credit to some borrowers with higher credit risks.” http://reut.rs/1hjj3kg

"Homeowners spent $130 billion on remodeling projects last year, according to data released by the U.S. Census Bureau. That was up 2.1 percent from 2012 and was the largest amount of home-remodeling spending since 2007, the year that the housing downturn began.”

Forbes magazine came out with the 20 fastest growing cities and it is no surprise that Texas was represented.
"Two states—Florida and Texas—each boast four cities on our Fastest-Growing Cities List this year, with three of the Texas cities ranking in the top 10: Austin (No. 1), Dallas (No. 4), Houston (No. 10), and San Antonio (No. 20). Strong population growth in 2013 and unemployment under 6 percent —well under the national rate of 6.7 percent—helped all four cities make the top 20, although last year the cities did even better, with Austin, Houston, and Dallas sweeping the top three slots. Given its business-friendly regulatory environment, lack of state income tax for corporations or people, and highly educated labor market, it’s perhaps not surprising that Texas continues to grow.”

"New home sales rose sharply in January, defying expectations for a drop-off due to harsh winter weather in much of the country. Sales jumped to their highest level in more than five years, and were up 9.6 percent from December, to hit a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 468,000 last month, the Commerce Department said Wednesday.”

"Forget package-toting drones—the future of retail may lie in satellites. That’s how Lowe’s (LOW) is catching up to Home Depot (HD) in the hunt for professional tradesmen and do-it-yourself consumers. Lowe’s said on Wednesday that it has been gauging traffic at its almost 1,900 stores from space, scanning satellite images of its parking lots to find out how many shoppers it can expect at every hour of every day. It has also starting syncing its parking lot observations with actual transaction counts to see how many people drove away without making a purchase.”

"Bank lending for land development and construction is turning up after hitting a 14-year low early last year, a sign that the supply crunch of new homes could ease in coming months.”

"First-time homebuyers hurt by rising prices and tougher credit standards are disappearing from the market, slowing the pace of the three-year recovery. The decline of these buyers, many of whom are young and non-white, also threatens to widen the wealth gap between owners, who benefit from appreciation, and renters, said Thomas Lawler, a former Fannie Mae economist."

"Potential first-time buyers weren’t able to take advantage of the high point in affordability and the low point in prices,” said Lawler, president of Lawler Economic & Housing Consulting LLC in Leesburg, Virginia. “So the wealth effect of the recovery hasn’t gone to what could have been new buyers.”

"In 2011 institutional investors — purchasing at least 10 residential properties in a calendar year — purchased 219,000 residential properties nationwide, representing 5.12 percent of all residential sales. That increased to 259,000, representing 5.82 percent of all residential sales in 2012, and 354,000, representing 7.40 percent of all sales in 2013. That’s a 44 percent increase in the institutional investor share of the residential sales market from 2011 to 2013."

"Over the last three years these institutional investors have purchased more than 850,000 residential properties, representing 6.14 percent of all sales. But the national numbers don’t tell the whole story. In a select set of markets, purchases made by institutional investors represent more than 20 percent of all residential sales over the past three years.” Editor’s Note: There is a neat map shown with this article at http://bit.ly/1e0WjPb

"The House passed its most recent flood insurance legislation Tuesday evening by an overwhelming vote of 306-91, exceeding the needed 2/3 majority. The bill now travels to the Senate, which can either pass the bill onto President Obama for signage into law, or further modify the legislation.”

"Like the Senate’s Homeowner Flood Insurance Affordability Act that passed in January, the House bill aims to reduce climbing flood insurance premiums associated with the 2012 Biggert Waters Act. The bill includes language to limit yearly premium increases to 15 percent, and tasks the Federal Emergency Management Agency with striving to cap annual premiums for policyholders at 1 percent of their total coverage. A $150,000 policy, for example, would have a premium of $1,500.”

Coldwell Banker Commercial has identified the top markets for commercial real estate, ranking more than 80 markets on the performance of their office, retail, and multi-family sectors. Also factored into its rankings are changes in vacancy rates, rental rates, population, and unemployment from 2012 to 2013 within each market.

Using those factors, Coldwell Banker identified the following top 10 commercial markets in the country in 2013 as:

1. Orlando, Fla.
2. Portland, Ore.
3. Dallas, Texas
4. Houston, Texas
5. Minneapolis, Minn.
7. Austin, Texas
8. Raleigh-Durham, N.C.
9. Fort Worth, Texas
10. Denver, Colo.
