Has COVID-19 changed the way your office operates? Having trouble getting your message out to your consumers/taxpayers?

As an appraiser or assessor, you spend countless hours answering questions and fielding appraisal appeals from taxpayers—and this has increased greatly with COVID-19. With each question, it’s clear that there is widespread confusion about the appraisal process. Often taxpayers are unclear on exactly how appraisers or assessors determine a property’s worth. This confusion can lead to unnecessary misunderstandings.

Fortunately, TEAM Consulting LLC has a great video that you can place on your website to answer a large number of questions in just a few minutes. This video is in use from Rhode Island to Hawaii and in jurisdictions from 4,000 to over 1 million parcels. It is effective and very reasonably priced. It is available in English and Spanish.

There is no annual maintenance fee, and once you purchase your custom-branded copy, you own it for use on multiple platforms for easy access by your consumers.

Watch It Today! If you have not yet seen this video or it’s been a while, check it out at http://www.teamconsulting.cc/videos.

Real Estate Notes of Interest

Rick is a Senior Consultant with TEAM Consulting, LLC and lives in Topeka, Kansas.

Diana Olick, www.cnbc.com, August 26, 2020
“Starting this week, however, every homeowner and potential homebuyer in America will be able to see a new, forward-looking analysis of their property’s flood risk. That could have a huge impact on the national housing market. A nonprofit research and technology group, First Street Foundation launched an interactive website offering flood risk data on more than 142 million homes and properties across the country in June. Now Realtor.com, one of the nation’s largest home listing sites, will put those scores on all of its listings.” https://cnb.cx/32RwAuh

“Home prices and year-over-year price gains hit another new high as prices continued to rise during a time of year that they usually decline, and pending home sales are way up from 2019. The fact that the market is so steady continues to be a surprising sign of strength during a time of major economic uncertainty.” https://bit.ly/3jJqp2t

Diana Olick, www.cnbc.com, September 16, 2020
Submitted by Brad Eldridge, MAI, CAE
“With demand for housing surging, the nation’s homebuilders are positively ebullient. Builder confidence in the market for single-family homes in September increased five points to 83 on the monthly NAHB/Wells Fargo Housing Market Index. That’s the highest reading in the survey’s 35-year history, which matched its last all-time high in August. Anything above 50 is considered positive. The index stood at 68 in September 2019.

Lumber prices have jumped more than 170 percent since mid-April, adding more than $16,000 to the price of a typical new single-family home, according to the NAHB. Lumber producers shut down in March and April as the pandemic hit the U.S., and did not expect to see the quick surge in housing demand that began in late May. Ramping up production, while protecting workers with social distancing, was not easy, and supply suffered.” https://cnb.cx/33NzFMB

Mary Salomonsen, www.builderonline.com, September 22, 2020
Editor’s Note: There is a large amount of interesting data in this article, and I would recommend reading it. “Existing-home sales marked their third consecutive month of positive gains in August, according to the latest data from the National Association of Realtors, with total existing-home sales—including single-family, townhomes, condominiums, and co-ops—rising 2.4 percent from July to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of six million in August. Sales rose by 10.5 percent year over year, up from an annual rate of 5.43 million in August 2019. The median existing-home price for all housing types rose 11.4 percent YOY, up from $278,800 in August 2019 to $310,600 in August 2020. This marks 102 consecutive months of year-over-year gains.” https://bit.ly/2RVQcs7

“In spite of wage growth and a decline in mortgage rates, other market factors are placing home ownership out-of-reach for many Americans than ever before. Sharp increases in single-family home prices are moving faster than increasing wages and historic dips in mortgage rates, according to ATTOM Data Solutions. As a result, a greater percentage of wages is needed to buy a home, and affordability has decreased in a large swath of the nation.” https://bit.ly/3kLeul9

“The Tyler, Texas, City Council has voted to reduce the minimum home size required for the North End Residential Building Incentive Program, created to provide incentives for single-family infill construction in the city’s north end, from 1,600 to 1,300 square feet. The program’s minimum house size was raised from 1,500 to 1,600 square feet in 2018, resulting in a drop in program participation and new-home construction.” https://bit.ly/2G9Yieq

"This year is on track to rival 2010 in retail bankruptcies. In 2010 following the Financial Crisis, 48 retailers filed for bankruptcy, marking one of the most significant years for retail chapter 11 filings. 2020 could close the year exceeding that number, according to data from BDO United States (Assurance, Accounting, Tax Advisory Services)." https://bit.ly/3n4GSkd

"Reports of the demise of major cities in the wake of COVID-19—and a resulting surge in suburban offices—are greatly exaggerated. Activity in the national office market remains robust in downtown areas, and such locations still are preferred by many corporations, according to new research from Newmark Knight Frank." https://bit.ly/3icFND7

"Is COVID-19 convincing millennials that it may finally be time to buy a home? A new survey from Morning Consult suggests that may be the case. More than one-quarter of millennials who don’t own a home, 28 percent, said they are more interested in purchasing one because of the pandemic." https://bit.ly/3kYrrYX

"The hotel market recovery could be slower than initially expected. New research from Fitch Ratings has found a lack of meaningful demand in the upper-tier hotel market, which could prove to slow the recovery in the US lodging market. As a result, the firm is decreasing its revPAR expectations for 2021 and maintaining its 2020 outlook. However, this adjusted outlook will not trigger downgrades due to cost controls, and the firm maintains that the market will recover in 2022 and 2023." https://bit.ly/3cM6tcJ

www.builderonline.com, September 24, 2020
"Sales of new single-family homes in August jumped 4.8 percent above the revised July rate and 43.2 percent year over year, according to the U.S. Census Bureau and the Department of Housing and Urban Development." https://bit.ly/3cLx9KS

"11M Households Behind on Mortgages, Rent in Q2: MBA
Nearly 11 million households fell behind on their mortgage or rent during the second quarter, according to a report released Sept. 17 by the Mortgage Bankers Association’s Research Institute for Housing America. The report revealed that 65 percent of borrowers received permission from their lenders to delay or reduce their monthly payments."
Kelsi Maree Borland, www.globest.com, October 7, 2020

“Homeowners have struggled to make mortgage payments during the pandemic. Since March, 24 percent of homeowners have missed or deferred a mortgage payment, according to a survey from Clever Real Estate. Renters have also been significantly impacted, with one in three renters missing rent payments during the pandemic. Combined, these two groups paint a startling image of the pressure Americans are facing to keep up with necessities.” https://bit.ly/3lofJbW

Natalia Siniavskiaia, www.eyeonhousing.org, October 5, 2020

“According to the Census Bureau, the median lot size for homes sold in 2019 dropped to 8,177 square feet, or 0.188 of an acre. The new number establishes a new record low and represents a solid drop of 390 square feet since 2018.” https://bit.ly/2Sx03Fn

Mary Salmonsen, www.builderonline.com, October 2, 2020

“In this year’s annual Wildfire Report, CoreLogic has identified 1,975,116 single-family home properties at moderate to extreme risk of wildfire damage from across the country’s 15 wildfire-prone states. These single-family residences have a combined reconstruction cost value (RCV) of more than $638 billion, and comprise approximately 6.5 percent of the total number of single-family homes in these states. Out of the top 10 metro areas with the greatest single-family home loss potential, seven are located in California. Los Angeles ranks first with 154,462 homes at elevated risk and a total RCV of $90.31 billion, followed by Riverside, California, with 126,628 homes at elevated risk and an RCV of $50.62 billion.” https://bit.ly/2GGjqtd

Les Shaver, www.globest.com, October 9, 2020

“Dollar General has announced a new retail store concept, called popshelf, that is targeting a higher-income shopper. While part of the Dollar General corporation, popshelf will be a differentiated store and shopping experience, according to the company. In a release announcing the venture, the company said that each approximately 9,000 square-foot popshelf store will be focused on delivering a combination of continually refreshed merchandise, seasonal specials and limited-time items.” https://bit.ly/3jLLrxA

“While many markets were hindered by the economic shutdown in March and April, Austin weathered the disruption and has begun to rebound quickly. Austin remains a robust multifamily market with continued delivery of new units, strong rent growth, occupancy and sales velocity, despite the economic turmoil caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, according to NorthMarq’s regional market report.” https://bit.ly/371HGRe

“Following the approval of a zoning change from the Mesquite, Texas, City Council, Huffines Communities has announced its plans to build the largest master-planned community in the city’s history, Solterra, set to include an estimated 3,900 homes across 1,424 acres at full build-out.” https://bit.ly/3jfw13E

For a new housing community in Bernalillo County, N.M., it’s all about the location of a neighborhood-scaled tiny home village to house individuals experiencing homelessness. Bernalillo County Commissioner Debbie O’Malley, who has a background in affordable housing, spearheaded the idea with council members from the City of Albuquerque to create a community of tiny houses in the county. The village offers holistic housing intervention and provides safe, dignified transitional housing for individuals experiencing homelessness. Its close proximity to amenities provides support services for employment and the stabilization of residents. The village is currently under construction and will open in December 2020. https://bit.ly/3iwTMsU
